A Tonic

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE.

A most excellent and agreeable tonic and appetizer. It nourishes and invigorates the tired brain and body, imparts renewed energy and vitality and enlivens the functions.

Dr. Ephraim Bateman, CEDARVILLE, N. J., says: "I have used it for several years, not only in my practice, but in my own individual case and consider it under all circumstances one of the best nerve tonics that we possess. For mental exhaustion or overwork it gives renewed strength and vigor to the entire system."

AN EASY VICTORY!

The U. of M. Played Great Ball with Oberlin this Afternoon.—Oberlin is not in it at all!

A large number of people witnessed the game with Oberlin this afternoon. Our boys played extremely well, and had no trouble in winning the game. The pitching of Robinson was the feature of the game, and the Oberlin boys were utterly unable to solve the mystery of his curves. Wilkinson's batting and Abbott's catching elicited again and again the applause of the spectators. The Oberlin men show lack of training, and do not play well together.

The following is the batting order of the two nines: Oberlin—Hodgson, l. f., Jameson, c. f., Holland, c., Ford, r. f., Grosienor, 1 b., Sumner, s. s., Neade, 2 b., Hicks, 3 b., Wright, p.

U. of M.—Kelly, 2 b., Abbott, c., Pearson, 3 b., Wilkinson, l. f., Rich, 1 b., Codd, r. f., Robinson, p., Seymour, c. f., Spitzer, s. s.

First inning—Oberlin went to bat and the first three men struck out in regular order.

The U. of M. followed suit by three men striking out. Score 0-0

Second inning—Oberlin—Ford struck out; Grosienor put out at 1st on a short hit. Sumner made a hit and stole third. Neade struck out.

U. of M.—Wilkinson to bat and made a base hit. Rich struck out. Codd put out at 1st. Robinson made a hit and got to 3rd., and Wilkinson scored. Seymour then made a two base hit, but Spitzer struck out, leaving Seymour on 3rd. Score—U. of M. 1, Oberlin, 0.

Third inning—Oberlin—Hicks, Oberlin's big third-baseman, struck out, and Wright followed suit. Hodgson got his base on balls. Holland put out at 1st, and Hodgson died on 2nd.

U. of M.—Kelly made a base hit and gets 3rd, on Oberlin's errors. Abbott batted and brought Kelly in. Pearson put out at 1st. Wilkinson sent the ball between s. s. and 2nd., and let Abbott in and scored himself. Rich put out at 1st., Codd got his base on balls and scored. Spitzer put out 1st and Robinson died on 2nd. Score—U. of M., 5; Oberlin, 0.

Fourth inning—Oberlin—Ford and Grosienor struck out. Sumner got 1st and stole 2nd. Neade struck out.

U. of M.—Kelly lined out to l. f., and went to 3rd. Abbott sent him in with a three bagger. Abbott scored. Pearson, Wilkinson, and Rich were put out on short flies. Score 7-0.

Fifth inning—Oberlin—Hicks and Wright put out at 1st. Hodgson struck out.

U. of M.—Codd got 1st. and scores. Seymour made a base hit and scored on Kelly's hit. Kelly, Abbott, Pearson and Wilkinson scored, Wilkinson making some fine hits close to the foul line. Rich was put out at 1st. Score U. of M. 13, Oberlin 0.

Sixth inning—Oberlin—Jameson and Howland went out. Ford got first on an error. Grosienor struck out. 0 runs.

U. of M.—Robinson made a three base hit and stole home. Seymour got first, but was out on the bases. Spitzer, Kelly and Abbott all got bases. Spitzer and Kelly came home on Pearson's hit. Wilkinson made a home run and brought in Abbott and Pearson. Rich took base on balls. Codd went out on a fly. Robinson made a base hit. Seymour brought in Rich and Robinson on a base hit and scored. Spitzer got his base but was out on the bases. 9 runs. 22-0.

U. of M.—Kelly got 1st. Abbott and Pearson went out and Wilkinson got his base and Kelly scored. Rich put out after Wilkinson brought in another. 2 runs. 24-0.

Oberlin—Wright, Hodgson and James struck out.

U. of M.—Codd went out. Robinson made a hit. Seymour and Spitzer got their bases and Robinson scored. Kelly and Abbott went out 1 run. 25-0.

Ninth inning—Oberlin—Howland, Ford and Grosienor went out in 1, 2, 3 order.

Score 25-0.

Men must be college bred these days to come to the front. Parkerson, the leader of the mob that slaughtered the Italians, was a Harvard man.

IN FRAGRANT SMOKE.

In fragrant smoke from censer fair,
Enriched with gold and jewels rare.
To proud Olympus far away
Full many a prayer at close of day
Was wafted through the perfumed air,
O Grecian wise, I pray declare
The virtues that are hidden there,
To banish doubt and dread dismay
In fragrant smoke.

What, silent! am I not to share
Thy fortune? See, in easy chair
With pillow soft and cushions gay,
I,—even I unworthy—may
Dispel the tyrant villain Care
In fragrant smoke.

Yale is taxed this year to the amount of $42,140. According to the law, all property exceeding $6,000 not used by the university is subject to tax.

The most popular educational institution in America is the University of Michigan. Yale ranks second, Harvard third, and Princeton fourth.—Ex.

A remarkable volume will soon be presented to the Harvard University library. It contains manuscript copies of all the commencement programmes of the college from 1780 to 1890, and specimens of the order of commencement exercises at intervals from the first graduation in 1642 to the Revolutionary war.—Ex.

LITERARY NOTES.

"Advanced Lessons in English Grammar" is the third publication in Maxwell's English series. This book has been prepared with especial reference to the needs of the higher grammar students. American Book Co., New York, Price 60 cts.

D. C. Heath and Company will publish shortly Victor Hugo's "Hermani", edited by Prof. John E. Matzke, of the Indiana University. Those persons interested in the study of the development of the French drama will be greatly pleased with this Work. Hugo's "Hermani" presents an excellent opportunity for the comparison of the Romantic school in France with the old Classicists.

S. Willard Clary, who was instructor in German in this university from 1887 to 1889, has recently prepared an edition of Wilhelmina von Hillern's "Höhe Als die Kirche". D. C. Heath and Company of Boston are the publishers. The story, a charming little piece, is always a great favorite with the Germans. It has been used as a text book among the New England colleges and is prescribed by the Regents of the University of New York for the German courses. Mr. Clary, during the past two years, has pursued an extended course of study in Germany, giving especial attention to the German literature. His notes on this little work of von Hillern's are good and copious.

We have recently received from the publishing house of Thomas Whittaker, New York, a small volume entitled "Thoughts on Life, Death and Immortality," selected from the unpublished writings of the late Bishop Harris, of Michigan, by Charlotte Wood Slocum.

Mrs. Slocum has culled from the manuscripts of Bishop Harris the passages which seem to her to be the most characteristic of his own habitual train of thought.

This work contains many helpful thoughts, and doubtless the source from which it comes commends it sufficiently to the public. Thomas Whittaker, New York. Price, 75 cents.

At Harvard for fifty years no smoker has graduated with the first honors of his class.—Ex.

CORNELL versus the University of Michigan, at Detroit next Saturday. Again we are to meet our formidable rival in base ball, and doubtless again we shall come off with the laurels. So far this spring Cornell has not particularly excelled in base ball, although her work has been very fair. Of course a large crowd will go down to Detroit on the special train, and encourage our boys with the vigorous U. of M. yell. The men deserve the heartiest support of the entire university, and judging from the number that turn out to see them practice, that support is not lacking. Let everybody turn out and make the day a gala one for the Michigan base ball nine.

IT is a lamentable fact that there is a general lack of good, original college verse. This is certainly not due to want of ability on the part of very many students with a poetical turn of mind, but rather it is because the poetical talent is kept wrapped up in a napkin. Several of our exchanges have offered prizes for the best work in verse and short stories, but in nine cases out of ten, when the time came around for awarding the prizes, there was not one contribution found worthy of a prize. We believe some extreme measures should be taken to bring out the literary talent of the college students, for surely there is a considerable amount of it stored away somewhere among so large a body of students. It would be an excellent thing if some of the courses in English required from each member several short stories or poems, during the semester, with the calculation of publishing the best of them in the college papers. There is no doubt that by a little help in this direction on the part of the professors some literary geniuses might be awakened, and some really meritorious work be done. As it is, very few excellent articles and especially bits of verse appear in the majority of our exchanges, and when by chance a refreshing stanza or two does make its appearance, it is clipped, and clipped, and worked over till the last straw is thrashed. Its original author has done a noble work, which contributes much enjoyment to the college world, and particularly to the college editor. Let us see if more work in this line cannot be done by every one, than has been done heretofore.

MUCH credit is certainly due to Prof. Trueblood for his untiring efforts in arousing an increased interest in public speaking and oratory among our students. Never before this year has the University come so far to the front in this direction as at the present time. The local contests in debates and oratorical productions have been a wonderful incentive to a greater degree of proficiency in the art, and the inter-collegiate contest of last evening has capped the climax of this year's work. There is probably no work of more benefit to the college man in his after active relations to the world, than that work which trains him to ably address his fellow-citizens. The better he is prepared to orally express his ideas, the greater influence he will exert upon the people en masse. As long as the advanced teaching in elocution and oratory keeps this final aim in view, the study and practice of this important subject will be of immense value. As soon, however, as the purpose becomes merely one for temporary, self-laudatory success, merely for the laurels of one effort, it falls from its true ideal. The latter, we feel sure, has not been the case with the present course of instruction. Although working under many difficulties and against some rooted prejudices, the results of this year's oratorical work have been in the highest degree satisfactory and commendable.

THE gymnasium fund seems to be taking a rest after its hard efforts to pass the $20,000 goal. Between $25,000 and $30,000 have now been pledged. But this is not to be the limit, and the work of canvassing the alumni is not done yet. Now that we are to have a gymnasium, we must have one that will amply meet all our wants, and one that will be worthy of the greatest University in the country. When we think of the prompt and hearty response made by the alumni of Yale or Harvard to any worthy cause of their alma mater, it rather puts to shame the slowness and seeming indifference of the great body of our alumni. We trust that the work will by no means stop at this point, but that it may with new energy start out again for a second $20,000 and reach it before the beginning of next year.

ALL interest this spring seems to have centered in base ball as the one out-door sport. Never before has so much enthusiasm in the game been manifested both by individuals and the various classes. Of course the fine schedule of games that has been arranged for our nine has done much to encourage this spirit. Also the assurance of a gymnasium and athletic field has indirectly helped to fan into a flame a live interest in athletics in general, and base ball in particular. We may hope for fair success at least on the eastern trip, and, if this hope is realized, a great impulse will be given athletics at the University of Michigan. Next year, with the new gymnasium and athletic field, more work than ever will be done in this line. After the long lethargy in athletics, Michigan is now wide awake and is rapidly coming to the front.

THE Students' Lecture Association held its annual election this morning. We are glad that a fair sense of justice came to the rescue even at a late hour. It certainly was a very unfair scheme to allow only holders of tickets of the literary department a voice in the general election, and the action of the board in throwing the suffrage open to all members was the only fair thing to be done. The retiring board has done its work well, and deserves the thanks of every student for the excellent and interesting program it has furnished this year. Financially the work has been a success, and the plans for dividing the profits between the gymnasium and the Newberry Hall funds is to be commended. We wish the S. L. A. board of next year unbounded success.

THE musical circles of Ann Arbor are in a flutter of excitement and happy anticipation, for next week the Boston Symphony Orchestra will be here. The best concert of the year will be given. Everyone who heard this wonderful orchestra last May is sure to hear it again, and all others will miss a great musical treat if they fail to take advantage of this opportunity. The orchestra has been somewhat increased and greatly strengthened since its last appearance here, and without a doubt we may expect this concert to be the finest ever given in Ann Arbor.

Tribute to Dr. Henry Wade Rogers.

WHEREAS, Prof. Henry Wade Rogers, LL.D., late Dean of the Law department of the University of Michigan, has severed his official connection with this institution to assume the duties of President of the Northwestern University,

Resolved, That we, Post Graduate and Senior Law classes of the University of Michigan hereby place on record our high appreciation of President Rogers as a Professor of Law, whose lectures were models in style and arrangement and replete with fundamental principles of jurisprudence involved in his course of instruction.

Resolved, That while deeply regretting the severance of his official connection with this department, we hereby extend to him our congratulations on his elevation to the Presidency of the Northwestern University, and our best wishes that he may enjoy a long life of usefulness and of honorable distinction.

Resolved, That an engrossed copy of these resolutions be sent to President Rogers and copies to the press for publication.

University Minstrels.

This organization is to appear at the Ann Arbor Opera House, Thursday evening, May 21st, under the auspices of the University Athletic Association. The performers, 35 in number, have been at work for two months past, and a high class amateur entertainment is assured. The orchestra numbers twelve pieces, and the music has been arranged by Speil of the Detroit Opera House orchestra. There will be no end of funny songs by the end men, and Mr. Jay and Mr. Darrow are the soloists. The special feature of the first part of the program is the only dancing giraffe—the animal arrived on Monday last from the American Mask Co., of Findlay, Ohio. Among the specialties is a clever musical act, a banjo quintet, an acrobatic grotesque specialty, skirt dancing, sand jig dancing, a mandolin specialty, and Mr. S. C. Park and his ventriloquist dolls, "Johnny" and "Mary." The afterpiece is being arranged by a well-known man about college, and is something entirely new. The music is all bright and catchy. Among the numbers are an overture from Hanguette's new opera, Paul Jones; the Darkey's Dream. Selections from the Red Hussar, and many other equally pleasing features. The costumes and properties are owned by the management, and the costumers and dress-makers have been hard at work on these for a month past. The first appearance of the minstrels will be at the Ypsilanti Opera House, Saturday, May 16th. The object of the entertainment is to raise money to send the base ball team east to play Harvard and Yale.

The CHRONICLE-ARGONAUT of next week will probably be issued on Friday, so that the entire editorial board may go to Detroit on Saturday for the Cornell game.

Boston Symphony Concert.

The readers of the CHRONICLE-ARGONAUT are already familiar with the programme which is to be played at the concert of May 5th. They are also aware of the fact that the Boston Symphony Orchestra is one of the most superb organizations in the world. The wonderful success met with is the logical result of systematic training they have received for years under the most superb conductors. The critic of the N. Y. Herald, Dec. 9, 1890, sums up the experience of the orchestra in that city as follows:

"The second concert in the series by the Boston Symphony Orchestra took place in Chickering Hall last night in the presence of an enthusiastic audience that crowded the building. When the Boston Orchestra first played here under Mr. Gericke's direction three years ago, New York music lovers were surprised at the perfection shown, but rather adverse to acknowledging that another American city possessed any musical organization of which the metropolis could be jealous. Such a feeling did not, however, prevent the Boston Symphony Orchestra's concerts from receiving generous and constantly increasing support so that last season there was a substantial increasing profit, and this year the subscribers practically take the whole house. In certain respects, the work of the Boston Orchestra under Mr. Nikisch surpasses even that of our far-famed Philharmonic Society."

Regarding the artistic success of this concert to which we have been looking forward so long, there can be no question. And unless we mistake not there will be as large an audience as was ever gathered in University Hall for a concert. Tickets at Calkins under the usual conditions. Doors will be opened at 7 p. m., and will be closed during the performance of the first number. In closing we must congratulate ourselves upon the opportunity afforded of hearing such a concert as is ordinarily only possible in the largest cities. To the enterprise of the Choral Union and their steady pursuance of a well-defined policy, a policy which has proved its worth here, as in every city wherever consistently carried out—we are indebted for this.

Prof. Tufts and Dr. Fay will go to Germany next year to continue their studies. Prof. Tufts, on his return, will assume the professorship of Philosophy at the University of Chicago.

The First Oratorical Contest of the Northern Oratorical League.

Last evening in University Hall occurred the first oratorical contest of the Northern Oratorical League. On account of the other numerous entertainments of the evening, rather a small audience greeted the speakers. The Chequamegons furnished some excellent music.

Our contestant, Mr. A. C. Gormley, secured the first prize of $100, and Mr. Adams, of the Northwestern University, won the second prize of $50. Theodore Kronsage, of Wisconsin, and F. W. Gurney, of Oberlin, can hardly be placed below the other two gentlemen in the matter of effective discourse.

The first orator was Mr. Gormley, and as a digest of his oration, on the subject "Quo Warranto," has already been given, there is no need for restatement. Were close criticism indulged, it might be said that his gestures seemed somewhat jerky and perfunctory; they lacked poise before the stroke and retention after it. A little more variation in the voice and face would also have been an improvement. But the whole effort was masterly as is indicated by the result.

Mr. Kronsage's subject was, "Luther at Worms." The stage presence of the Wisconsin representatives was very good; his movements are deliberate and easy, while he heightened the effect of his speech by show delivery and a judicious use of pauses. His thought was excellent, evincing a liberal spirit and a thorough appreciation of his subject. The speaker first pictured the material progress of the sixteenth century upon which the one great blot was the sale of indulgencies. Religion was the real problem of the day and Luther stepped forward to solve it; Luther, the poor peasant's son, who had found time in his hard work at college to thirst for better life and this he had found in high consecration to the church. There was a very clean picture given of the Council at Worms. The papal legate represented superstition, the king absolutism, Luther stood in simplicity and plainness but stood bravely for the new imperialism of love and truth. The Luthers of to-day are proclaiming the fact that the salvation of man lies in the free development of our present faith up to the point where man shall live in God.

The first sentence which Mr. Gurney uttered impressed the audience with his wonderful voice. Within the first five minutes of his discourse they were impressed just as strongly with his great earnestness. As his subject carried him on to enthusiasm he presented a fine example of plain, rugged manhood, thinking clearly and resolving highly. He spoke upon the old subject of the liquor traffic, but the treatment was new and exceedingly impressive. "The world does not like alarmists; Demosthenes was unable to arouse the Greeks because they were tired of his always harping upon the subject of Phillip of Macedonia." It was from this that Mr. Gurney got the suggestion of his subject as announced, "King Phillip in America." Americans are proud of their nation; they are encouraged by progress; they do not believe in alarms. "But wait! even now we hear the mutterings of industrial revolution, our great cities are becoming more prominent and more vicious; we are not now what we shall be; wait until New York becomes a London, wait until the liquor power which even now is taking from the people an amount three times as large as the government expenses, which is managing legislatures and amassing an army at the polls, wait until the rum power shall more firmly establish its despotism within the republic; then call upon the blinded optimist who could see no more danger than could the confident citizen of fallen Rome." Indifference is the foundation of the saloon power. Let college men who have the knowledge and the power lead the uprising against this demon of modern civilization.

There were not wanting those who expected the decision to be in favor of Mr. Gurney, so excellent was his thought and so impressive his delivery.

"Webster's Defense of the Constitution", was Mr. Adam's subject. Lack of space forbids the giving of a complete digest. The Northwestern representative was the most polished of the four orators, especially so in delivery. The subject and method are a little too well known, but the effort was exceedingly creditable as the $50 prize would indicate.

That the U. of M. has neglected oratory seemed to be indicated in the fact that the three outside representatives had the more deliberate, easy bearing which is bestowed by practice. The entertainment was exceedingly enjoyable, the orations were masterly and of sustained interest. It is certain that if Prof. Trueblood and his co-workers persevere, the contests of next year will more nearly receive the large support which they merit.

The judges on thought and composition were Mrs. Horace Hitchcock, of Detroit; Hon. Alfred Russell, of Detroit, and Prof. Gallagher, of Appleton, Wis. The judges on delivery were Rev. H. A. Cleveland, of Indianapolis; Prof. Atwater, of Bloomington, Ind., and Prof. Griffith, of Indianapolis. The following is the official score:

	Gallagher.	Hitchcock.	Russell.	Cleveland.	Atwater.	Griffith.	Total.
A. C. Gormley--	80	90	100	87	90	90	537
T. Kronsage----	90	100	75	86	91	89	530

John B. Adams--	85	95	75	98	92	86	531

The Freshman Banquet.

The Fraternity Freshman Banquet occurred at Nichol's Hall last night, thanks to the forbearance of the sophomores, and was a success in point of attendance and general pleasure. Fifty couples were present. The Hall was prettily festooned and decorated with class and university colors.

Harry F. Worden was toast-master and called for toasts as follows: "The Faculty" Ross Whitman, "But those, though good and evil, praise and blame." "Our class," T. P. Bradfield, "And ever climbing higher." "The boys," Miss B. A. Lewis, "Not grave through pride, nor gay through folly." "The girls," H. G. Effinger, "Here is a spirit deep and crystal; clear, calmly beneath her earnest face it lies."

Prof. Scott, while commenting upon the essays handed in by the class in Rhetoric said, "The class has increased the resources of the English language and has rescued many words from obscurity."

Don't fail to go to Detroit, for the Cornell game next Saturday.

Profs. Thomas and Dennison have joined the ranks of the U. of M. wheelmen.

Pres. Angell will conduct chapel Sunday morning, taking for his subject "Missions."

Two new clay tennis courts are being constructed upon the campus, back of the museum.

Prof. Johnson's class in Qualitative Analysis course 3, received their "unknowns" on Thursday.

Mr. Swiggett's class in advanced French, has begun reading Fenelon's Dialogues upon Eloquence.

The signs "Strawberry Flop 25c," and "Positively no credit given after May 1st," have again appeared.

Profs. Walter and Dennison were the first to appear on the tennis court, reserved for the use of the faculty.

Jim Van Inwagen and Harry Hatch have gone East to attend the Psi U convention, which is held at Amherst.

At the meeting of the mathematical club on Saturday evening, papers will be read by H. L. Rice and M. E. Porter.

'94 held a class meeting on Thursday for the purpose of selecting class colors. Brown and white were the colors decided upon.

A social will be tendered the Freshmen, in the parlors of the Presbyterian church this evening at eight o'clock. All Freshmen are cordially invited to be present.

Dr. J. B. Steere delivered a lecture before the Geological Society, on Friday evening, upon "The Genera and Species of Land Birds in the Philippine Islands." He also discussed the principles of distribution discovered by him as yet new to science.

This is the time of year that the bulletin board is decorated with flattering offers to young men, by accepting which, they can "make from $150 to $500 a month, with but little work."

At the meeting of the Webster Society, on Wednesday evening, a debate was held upon the subject: Resolved, "That old bachelors should be taxed for the support of the old maids."

An unusually interesting meeting was held by the Philological Society on Thursday evening. Prof. Kelsey read a paper upon the "Comparative Study of a Roman and a lately discovered Egyptian House." An account was also given by Prof. D'Ooge, of the newly found Aristotelian constitution of Athens.

The Engineers held their first annual banquet last evening at Hangsterfer's hall. The literary program consisted of an address by the president, Mr. G. C. Tuthill, and toasts by Profs. Davis, Cooley, Green, Pettee, and Messrs. D. B. Cheever, R. L. Sackett, '91, and Battin, '94. Mr. P. H. Richardson officiated as toastmaster.

The Northern Oratorical League delegates met in Alpha Nu Hall yesterday afternoon to transact business. Prof. Trueblood was made an advisory member and the order of speakers was determined by lot as follows: U. of M., Madison, Oberlin and Northwestern. The question of admitting new colleges was discussed, but owing to the absence of the Oberlin delegates nothing definite could be determined. The meeting adjourned till 8 o'clock this evening.

Next Monday evening, May 4th, the Unity Club program will partake of a strictly Tennyson character. The first part of the evening will be taken up with a paper on the life and history of Tennyson, and the literary value of his work, the paper to be read by Miss Grace Taylor, of the high school. Then will follow songs, solos, duets, quartettes and choruses, and some beautifully arranged tableaux. The second part of the evening will be occupied in presenting in costume two of the prettiest idyls that the "Poet Laureate" has given us in his "Idyls of the King." The first will be "Lancelot and Elaine" in six scenes, and the next "Guinevere" in one scene. The members of the Unity Club have spared no pains to make this evening's program one worth hearing, and all lovers of this great poet should not fail to attend.

It is said that Prof. Scott is going to require two more essays from the classes in Rhetoric.

A serious lock-out was barely averted a few days ago when one of the janitors refused to open the doors of the Main Hall for some evening classes. His complaint was that it was work after hours without extra pay. After holding out for a few minutes against one of the professors, he yielded and opened the door, but did not light the gas. This is probably Prof. Adams first experience in dealing with a strike.

Plans have been made for the second excursion of the Rocky Mountain Club. The route has been selected carefully, going from Chicago to Vancouver, B. C. and return, over the lines of six different railroads. Between St. Paul and the Pacific, the Great Northern and Canadian Pacific roads have been chosen, while the picturesque Burlington will be followed down the Mississippi from St. Paul to Chicago. Further particulars can be obtained of W. A. McAndrews, Hyde Park, Chicago.

In looking over Newberry Hall one is surprised at the elegance and grandeur of the structure. Finished in hard wood, the parlors upon either side of the main hall in cherry, and the balance in oak, the woodwork looks rich and beautiful. The workmen are pushing to get the building in readiness for the great art loan, to open in a couple of weeks, and will without doubt be out of the way for that event. Of course it will be impossible to have the large hall floored and seated by that time, but the present temporary floor will answer all purposes very well, and chairs can be temporarily placed so that no inconvenience will be suffered by the public in attending the evening's entertainments. The work of making the art collections is progressing finely, the ladies interested are meeting with better success than they anticipated. Present indications point to the finest display in pictures and works of art than has ever been opened to the public in Michigan, outside of the great art loans in Detroit. The attractions will be so great that people will desire to come from a long distance to witness the display, and unless present indications are much at fault, the ladies will realize a sum out of the enterprise that will go a long way toward the laudable object of paying for the completion of the building.—Courier.

Prof. D'Ooge's classes in sophomore Greek begins reading "The Frogs" next Wednesday.

Prof. Trueblood gave a tennis party to the visitors of the oratorical league, on his lawn this afternoon.

At a meeting of the Oratorical League this morning, the Iowa University was admitted to the Association.

There will be a meeting of the Prohibition Club this evening in the Law Quiz Room. Business of importance is to be transacted.

Republicans, Notice—There will be a meeting of the Republican Club, of the University, next Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Law Lecture Room.

Wheelmen, Notice—There will be a meeting of the club and all interested in wheeling, at the law building next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Let every wheelman be there.

A meeting of wheelmen was announced for Wednesday night, but the attendance was so poor that it was postponed. The purpose for which the meeting was called was to arrange for some club runs, and possibly races, although bicycle racing, as a part of college athletics has thus far proved a complete failure. It is hoped that the meeting of next Wednesday will be better attended.

The May number of the Inlander promises to be an excellent one. The attraction will be "The Silhouette," a complete novel of six chapters. The plot of the story is located at a summer resort, and the tale recites in a dashy way the experiences of an invalid who has fallen in love with a shadow, but finally fitting the face to real flesh and blood. The story is from the pen of a bright writer, and the Inlander has done well in securing it. The remainder of the contents will be fully up to the standard that has been set in the other numbers.

Bishop C. D. Foss, of Philadelphia will lecture before the Wesleyan Guild to-morrow evening.

At the S. L. A. election this morning P. W. Ross, lit. '92, was elected president of the board for next year. The question of the proposed amendments to the constitution will be acted upon two weeks from to-day.

Rev. J. T. Sunderland will speak next Sunday morning in the Unitarian church upon the late "James Freeman Clarke." In the evening he will give the last sermon in his Ypsilanti series. Subject: "What is Unitarianism?"

A meeting of the Regents was held yesterday. The sum of $4,500 was appropriated for fixing up the new athletic grounds. The salary of W. F. Edwards, accountant in the chemical laboratory, was made $900. The following appointments of special lectures were made: Hon. Thomas M. Cooley, on inter state commerce law; Marshall D. Ewell, on medical jurisprudence; James L. High, on equity jurisprudence; B. L. D'Ooge, of the Normal School, on Italic dialects.

The degree of A. B. is still the most popular degree in the University. Out of 148 students graduating in the literary department this year 53 are candidates for A. B. The Ph. B. students number 36. This shows that the required Latin courses have been completed by more than half of the senior class. The B. L. students who have not studied Latin or Greek at all number 20. The B. S. students of whom an entrance examination is required number 39. The B. S. degrees are distributed as follows: B. S. (General) 14, B. S. (C. E.) 12, B. S. (M. E.) 4, B. S. (Chem.) 5, B. S. (Electrical) 3, B. S. (Biology) 1.

MERELY AN EXCHANGE.

Theodore Thomas was given a farewell banquet at Delmonico's last week by a number of his personal friends. George William Curtis presided.

The formal consent of the faculty was given Monday night to the establishing of a Conservatory of Music, but the matter was left to the Board of Regents.

The Scharwenka Conservatory will be opened in New York in August. The list of professors includes himself and Anton Seidl in the more advanced departments.

Mr. Marshall Pease, the vocalist, was a pupil of Wm. Courtney, of New York, and Herr Haug, of Munich, and has lately begun instruction in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

There have been lately two notable performances of opera by amateurs; the production of Sullivan's "Gondoliers," on the 19th, by the New York Society, at the Manhattan Athletic Club, and the performance of "Iolanthe" by the Amateur Operatic Association of Jersey City.

The opera season at the Grand Opera House, New York, opens May 25th with "Trovatore." "Martha," "Faust," "Bohemian Girl," "Carmen," "Lucia" will be produced.

The Glee and Banjo clubs were fortunate in receiving the most favorable press notices in every city in which they appeared during their recent tour.

The Iowa State Register of Des Moines concludes its criticism of the concert by saying: "The performance was a complete success. In the first place it was funny. And now-a-days it would seem as though humor must be in every entertainment or people will turn around in their seats and yawn. Then the "go" of the performance never flagged. The audience was not compelled to wait but everything was given with a vim and snap. And then back of all was melody which welled up rich and full and of such a character as only is present in the male voice, and which is so effective in chorus. Des Moines will be glad to welcome the U. of M. Glee and Banjo clubs at any time they may see fit to call. The personnel of future clubs may be changed, but the spirit which makes a college performance is not confined to one group of students, but like apostolic succession is handed down from one generation to another. There were no "Bonnies" nor "Taverns" nor "Bingoes," which too long have masqueraded as the only songs American students date on. This was especially noticeable. From Des Moines the clubs jumped to Kalamazoo, at which place their tour ended and footlights must give way to the glimmer emitted from midnight oil patiently burnt, and the applause of audiences will be succeeded by — well, the non-applause of professors."

Remember the clubs appear May 15th, in University Hall.

A new gymnasium is to be built at Brown University at a cost of $50,000.

Last Saturday, Brown defeated Harvard at base ball by a score of 15 to 6.

Of the Yale athletes 64 per cent, have received distinguished standing in their classes.

Brown plays Harvard at Cambridge next Wednesday, and Yale at Providence next Saturday.

The University of Pennsylvania will enter about 60 men in the State Inter-collegiate sports on May 23d.

Yale and Princeton will play a championship game of base ball on the Manhattan field, New York City, on June 13.

The American tennis players will have to look to their laurels this season, as the celebrated Renshaws of England are coming here. Mrs. Edwina Pedley, the champion of India, and the only lady who has ever beaten the Renshaws in a match, is also coming to try her skill with Miss Robinson, the American lady champion.—Ex.

The Indiana State University ball team disappointed the management here, and was unable to appear Saturday last, as had been announced. Manager Abbott, however, succeeded in securing a game for that afternoon with the Michigan Agricultural College team, which was witnessed by several hundred people. The game was one-sided, the Lansing college pitcher being batted right and left by each individual member of the home team. The score resulted 26 to 6 in favor of the University.

Another game which excited considerable interest was that between ninety-two and ninety-three lit. The score was a tie, 8 to 8, and the game will be played off to-day. In a short game Wednesday the medics defeated '93 lit by a score of 5 to 4.

Perhaps the most important of the class games played this week was that between '91 and '92 law, in which the batteries were respectively Abbott and Deyou, and Ferris and Seymour. The resulting score was six to four in favor of the juniors. The game was a remarkably strong one, and it will be an unusual class team that can secure the championship from ninety-two, law.

How does it happen that we have no contests among the ladies at our tennis tournaments? We have never attended tournaments elsewhere, that the ladies did not take prominent parts, and their games have always proved more interesting than those of their stronger brothers. Let our association give it out that such contests will be included in this year's tournament and see if the ladies do not do their part.

It seems to have been decided that the University team will not have a training table. A request was presented to the faculty asking that in case of rain Saturday, the team might play Cornell Monday, and was refused. The faculty looked on the possibility as furnishing practically a holiday to the entire University. This Cornell game is the object of all interest this week, and is looked forward to with deepest interest. Oberlin plays at the fair grounds this afternoon with the University nine, Robinson and Abbott as battery.

Nothing worthy of note beyond a moderate progress in practice is to be said of the week's base ball news, as it concerns the University team. Conway has expressed decided dissatisfaction with the want of energy exhibited by the team in their practice work, and has been urging them to play each practice game with all the zeal that is expected in a championship game. Several new men have from time to time been called into practice, and other hints have been thrown out to the effect that the team has not yet been necessarily chosen, and that no man has a "cinch" on his position. It is expected that the apathy among the players will disappear, and that an improved spirit will result from these measures.

N. S. DAVIS, M. D., LL. D., DEAN.

The thirty-third annual course of instruction will begin Tuesday September 29th, 1891, and close Tuesday, April 26th, 1892. The course of instruction is graded, students being divided into first, second and third year classes, with fourth year course optional.

Applicants for admission must present diplomas or certificates from recognized colleges, schools of science, academies, high schools, or teachers' certificates of the first or second grade, or sustain a preliminary examination.

The method of instruction is conspicuously practical and is applied in the wards of Mercy Hospital daily, at the bedside of the sick, and in the amphitheatre of St. Luke's Hospital, also in the amphitheatres of the College and in the South Side dispensary attached to the College, where upwards of fourteen thousand patients are treated annually.

Fees: $100 a year, which covers everything, except a deposit against breakage in Chemical Laboratory, amounting to $5 first year and $3 second year (both returnable). Hospitals: Mercy, $6 for third year students; St. Luke's, $5 for second year students.

No fee is charged for the extra quizzing of the students done in classes.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE

In the City of New York.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK at the present time consists of the SCHOOL OF ARTS, the original college, founded in 1754; of sundry professional schools to wit: the SCHOOL OF LAW, the SCHOOL OF MINES, and its Medical Department by joint resolution, the COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, admission to all of which, as candidates for professional degrees, is open to all students, whether or not they are college-bred men; and of the UNIVERSITY FACULTIES OF LAW, MINES (Mathematics and Pure and Applied Science), POLITICAL SCIENCE and PHILOSOPHY, which conduct all courses leading to the university degrees of MASTER OF ARTS and DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY.

The point of contact between the college and the university is the senior year in the School of Arts, during which year students in the School of Arts pursue their studies, with the consent of the Faculty of Arts, under one or more of the University Faculties.

The various schools are under the charge of their own faculties, and for the better conduct of the strictly university work, as well as of the whole institution, a University Council has been established.

I. THE SCHOOL OF ARTS.

The School of Arts, or the college proper, has a curriculum of four years' duration leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for admission to the School of Arts must be at least fifteen years of age and pass an examination on prescribed subjects, the particulars concerning which may be found in the annual Circular of Information.

II. THE UNIVERSITY FACULTIES.

The University Faculties of Law, Mines (Mathematics and Pure and Applied Science), Political Science, and Philosophy, taken together constitute the University. These university faculties offer advanced courses of study and investigation, respectively, in (a) Private or Municipal Law, (b) Mathematics and Pure and Applied Science, (c) History, Economics, and Public Law, and (d) Philosophy, Philology, and Letters. Courses of study under one or more of these university faculties are open to members of the senior class in the School of Arts, and to all students who have successfully pursued an equivalent course of undergraduate study to the close of the junior year. These lead, through the bachelor's degree, to the university degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy.

III. THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS.

The professional schools are the schools of Law, Mines, and Medicine, to which all students, as well as those not having pursued a course of undergraduate study as those who have, are admitted on terms prescribed by the faculty of each school as candidates for professional degrees.

1. The School of Law, established in 1858, offers a three years' course of study in common law and equity jurisprudence, medical jurisprudence, criminal and constitutional law, international law public and private, and comparative jurisprudence. The degree of Bachelor of Laws is conferred on the satisfactory completion of the course.

2. The School of Mines, established in 1864, offers the following courses of study, each of four years' duration, and each leading to an appropriate professional degree, namely: mining engineering, civil engineering, metallurgy, geology and paleontology, analytical and applied chemistry, architecture; and the following as graduate courses, each of two years' duration and each leading to an appropriate degree, namely, sanitary engineering and electrical engineering.

3. The College of Physicians and Surgeons, by joint resolution of June 18th, 1860, the Medical Department of Columbia College, offers a three years' course of study in the principles and practice of medicine and surgery, leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine (M. D.)
